POTAMITISVEKRIS ANNOUNCES NEW PARTNER

We are delighted to announce that Theologos Mintzas has been elected to the partnership of POTAMITISVEKRIS.

Theologos has shown an unwavering commitment to our values and client service and has built a sterling track record to become a trusted adviser in his areas of practice.

“This promotion acknowledges hard work, excellent legal skills and service to our clients. We congratulate Theologos and wish him every success as he continues his career with us”, said Stathis Potamitis, Managing Partner.

George Bersis, Co-Managing Partner added: “Over the years, Theologos has earned the confidence of his clients and colleagues. We are happy for his achievements and are confident that he will continue to contribute significantly to the success of our clients and firm.”

Theologos is a real estate expert advising domestic and foreign investors and international funds on a wide range of transactions, including acquisitions, disposals and leases of portfolios and individual assets and other real estate investments, as well as on property management, construction and development. He leverages his expertise in environmental, building, planning and zoning law and relevant regulatory matters to help clients successfully conclude all types of real estate transactions. Theologos has been involved in numerous landmark real estate transactions and has significant experience in privatizations of public assets as well as mergers & acquisitions and other corporate arrangements in multiple industries including hospitality.
